

Sun p.39	25 May 2001
----------	-------------

● ACTING on impulse could be due to brain damage, say Cambridge University scientists. They singled out drug addicts and people with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder among those potentially affected.